

White House Intervention In Mine War Is Predicted

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—First blast furnaces were closed today by iron and steel producers whom the two-day-old coal mine shutdown caught with low supplies of coke and coal. The cumulative result of the three successive miners' walk-outs thus hit some sections of the steel industry twice as quickly as during walkout No. 2 early this month.

(By The Associated Press) Washington, June 22—Direct action by the White House was viewed today as possible within 48 hours unless the nation's 521,000 striking coal miners unexpectedly return to work before then.

Their latest walkout, third in seven weeks, has already begun to choke the war-vital steel industry; coke production was cut in Alabama and Pennsylvania, some blast furnaces were being prepared to shut down and officials pictured the industry as close to the bottom of the bin in coal supplies.

Hope In Confabs With presidential intervention, the only hopeful sign in the troubled coal situation was a series of conferences between Interior Secretary Ickes, government operator of the mines, and John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers (UMW). They met yesterday, kept silent about what was discussed, and gave out only that the talks were continuing today.

Here is the situation in the coal fields:

PENNSYLVANIA—117,000 soft coal miners and 83,000 anthracite workers were idle in a complete shutdown. Carnegie-Illinois Steel said part of its Pittsburgh coke ovens were banked already, and was preparing to shut down some blast furnaces.

WEST VIRGINIA—All the 130,000 bituminous miners on strike.

KENTUCKY—47,000 miners out, closing 200 mines. Still working were about 4,500 members of the Progressive Miners (APL) and 8,500 non-union coal diggers.

In Other Areas ILLINOIS—32,500 of the state's 40,000 miners idle in 270 of the 335 workings, including all 25,000 UMW members in 209 mines. Half of the state's 15,000 Progressive Miners also walked out in a sympathy strike.

ALABAMA—All 22,000 idle. Republic Steel at Birmingham announced a forced 50 per cent reduction in coke production.

MIDWEST—Indiana's 8,000 and Ohio's 21,000 out.

SOUTH—Joining walkout were all of Arkansas's 4,000, Virginia's 23,500, Tennessee's 10,000.

WEST—Oklahoma's 66 mines, employing 2,300 down; also idle were 6,600 in Colorado, 3,300 in Utah; 2,400 in Washington, 4,100 in Wyoming; 1,800 in New Mexico, 1,300 in Montana, 2,000 in Iowa.

Board Stands Pat Lewis and the UMW Policy committee refused to interfere with the walkout which followed a two-weeks truce between the miners and the operators. The War Labor Board, which rejected the union's demands for underground travel pay and ordered the 1941 contract continued for two years, was represented as being just as firm in its stand. Unquoteable sources said the WLB served notice on Ickes that any understanding he reaches with Lewis must conform to the board's directive.

Besides the old contract terms, the board granted the miners an increase in vacation pay and allowances for equipment which would raise their daily pay about 25 cents. Underground travel pay, the board insisted, contained a "hidden" increase that would not be allowable under the hold-the-line government policy and was a matter for the courts to decide. Chairman William H. Davis said the miners, on a six-day week, could average $49.60.

New Pastor For Y. S. Lutherans

The Rev. Ralph W. Meckley, Lutheransburg, has been elected pastor of the York Springs Lutheran church, it was announced at a congregational meeting held Sunday. The charge is composed of the York Springs, Lower Bermudian and Chestnut Grove churches. Each congregational meeting Sunday was in charge of the Rev. H. W. Sternat, Biglerville.

The Rev. Mr. Meckley will succeed the Rev. Lester M. Utz, who resigned some months ago as pastor of the York Springs charge, to accept a charge at Pine Grove, Pa. The new pastor is a graduate of Gettysburg college and seminary.

AVIATION CADET John O. Mitchell, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Mitchell, Carlisle street, leaves Wednesday for Keeler Field, Mississippi, where he will be enrolled as an aviation cadet in the Army Air Corps. Mitchell graduated from Gettysburg high school this month.

PRICE THREE CENTS

Good Evening Only a raid could be less welcome than a test at dawn.

Communications System "Bogs" In Dawn Alarm

"If the surprise air raid test early this morning had been the real thing the amount of damage done in Adams county would have been terrible," a member of the County Council of Defense said following the test which brought wardens out of bed at 4:30 a. m. today.

Some communities failed to stage blackouts. Gettysburg's telephone exchange was crowded with calls of "where's the fire" from firemen and others and only "the magnificent work of the single operator on duty prevented complete collapse of the local system and allowed the air raid calls to go through," defense heads said.

The number of wardens on duty was very small, with only a few heeding the alarm which many, in Gettysburg particularly, did not hear. A number of county communities did not receive the alarms apparently because sleeping wardens did not hear their phones or failed to distinguish their ring on the party lines.

Instructions Confusing

Much of the failure in communications, which resulted in the failure of New Oxford, McSherrystown and Hanover to stage blackouts and which held up activities because of lack of understanding by some communications men, resulted from a change of phraseology in sending out alarms ordered by the army after it took over the air raid system about a week ago, defense heads said.

The county defense heads, while deciding to hold a meeting next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock at the court house to review the problems posed by the morning test, said today that in the future all orders will be given in the phraseology previously used and which is clearly understandable to the control center heads and communications men.

Three Face Charges

Three charges of failure to put out lights were made here this morning by Chief of Police Glenn Guise at the direction of the Gettysburg Council of Defense. Charged with allowing lights to burn during the blackout were Dr. Bruce N. Wolff, Nicholas Meligakas and Ernest Kranias.

According to the informations laid before Justice of the Peace John H. Bashore, lights were on in Dr. Wolfe's house on Springs avenue, in the Famous Texas lunch operated by Mr. Kranias and at the Sweetland-Plaza restaurant owned by Mr. Meligakas.

No time was immediately set for hearings on the cases.

"The test was the most unsuccessful held so far in regards to performance," county defense heads said, "but it was the most successful in revealing flaws in the system."

Taking Necessary Steps

Reversion to previous phraseology in calls was the first step taken by the county defense heads to prevent future occurrence of the fiasco this morning.

"If a county's defense set-up won't work at 4:30 a. m. then one can place no confidence in it to work when it is needed—which will probably be during the early hours of the morning," a county defense official said in pledging defense heads to work out a satisfactory air raid warning and defense system.

The test was the first ever held under army regulations with the calls coming through the air raid warning control center at Gettysburg. In previous tests the warnings of the raid came directly to county defense officials for transmission through the county's civilian defense set-up.

Confused As Routine Test

Constant tests are being made of the nation-wide army set-up of warning centers, it was stated, and previously the calls coming through to the warning center were not to be carried throughout the entire system.

As a result, defense heads said, when the call came through the clerk on duty at first thought it was the usual test of the warning system.

When it became clear that the signal was meant to be sent throughout the county the warning center started its program of calls using the new Army phraseology.

No Alarm In Hanover

The result was that in sections under three control centers no public air raid test was held. Members of the Hanover control center as well as the New Oxford center thought that only a control center test was being held. It was stated today that the calls are very similar under Army regulations and can easily be confused.

It was believed here this morning that McSherrystown officials either misunderstood the calls or failed to receive them and did not even man the control center.

Control centers were manned at Biglerville, Abbottstown, East Berlin, Gettysburg, Littlestown, Fairfield and York Springs and the blackout was carried out in those communities. A number of other communities, including Arendtsville, Peach Glen and that section of the

COURT WAS NOT CONSULTED ON CARBAUGH CASE

Judge W. C. Sheely today sent a letter to the State Pardons board confirming a telephone communication with its secretary Monday in which he pointed out to the board that he was not notified in advance of the petition of Harry Carbaugh, Hamiltonban township, for parole from a sentence given in Adams county court after Carbaugh was convicted of the armed robbery of the Fairfield bank. Carbaugh's sentence was commuted last week.

No copy of the petition was received by the county court for comment, the judge said, as is the regular procedure. Judge Sheely pointed out that he was "not criticizing the parole board for its action. We have always held that the granting or withholding of a pardon rests solely with the Parole Board."

Reviews Case Record

However, the judge pointed out, the court usually is asked for remarks which may have some bearing on the case. In the Carbaugh case, Judge Sheely pointed out, the Hamiltonban man was sentenced in November, 1928, to a term of from four to eight years in the penitentiary on two charges of larceny and a charge of breaking and entering and at the same time sentence was suspended on a charge of carrying a concealed weapon.

After that, the judge pointed out in his letter to the parole board, Carbaugh served two years in Tennessee for robbery and in the present case disguised himself by blacking his face and held up the Fairfield bank at gunpoint.

Given 10 to 20 Years

After being sentenced in the latest case from which sentence he was pardoned last week, Carbaugh tried to escape jail by digging under the wall of the cell block and had nearly effected his escape from the jail before he was apprehended. Carbaugh was given 10 to 20 years for the Fairfield robbery and served about seven years.

FIREMEN END DRIVE FRIDAY

Approximately $400 has been received so far by fire company solicitors in their "give cash instead of foodstuffs" drive to raise money by solicitation to replace the annual Fireman's bazaar and carnival called off this year because of wartime conditions.

The firemen are visiting every home in town in an effort to have community residents give an equivalent in cash for what they would have given in foodstuffs if the bazaar was being held.

Members of the fire company are on duty every night this week at the engine house to receive the contributions as they are turned in by solicitors, it was stated.

The drive will close Friday evening at 9 o'clock with an award of prizes at the engine house.

"Horse And Carriage" Conveyance, First Here In Thirty Years, Greets Newlyweds After Nuptials

Gettysburg's first "horse and carriage" wedding in three decades or more took place here Saturday afternoon when Mr. and Mrs. James H. Allison used a 50-year-old surrey to ride from St. James Lutheran church to the bride's residence on Springs avenue after their marriage ceremony.

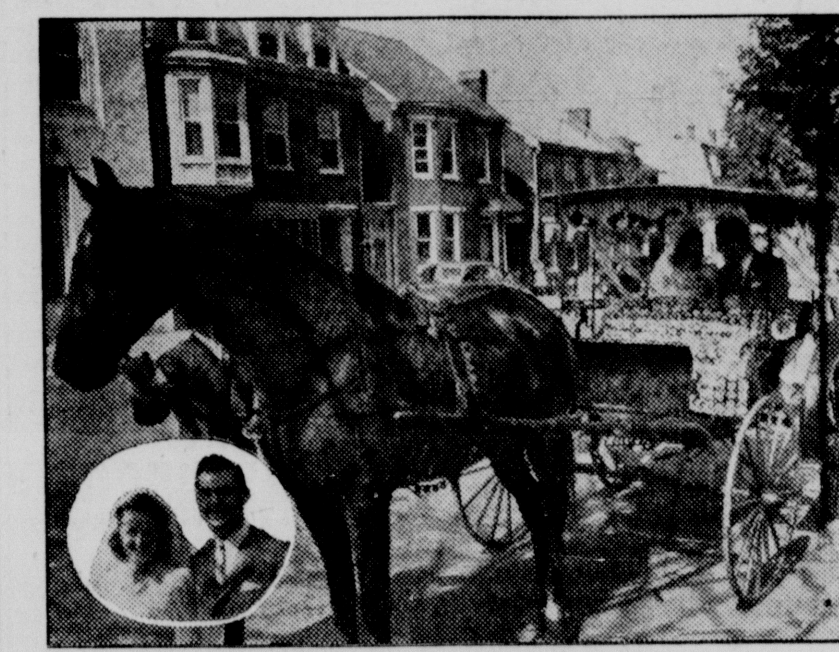

Members of the wedding party followed in a three-seated light spring wagon that got away from the church after a five-minute delay caused by a "balky horse."

Surprise for Couple

Some of the guests and members of the wedding party were "in" on the surprise but Mr. Allison, his bride, the former Miss Marian L. Sheely, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Sheely, and a large number of the guests were unprepared for the sight of the two horse-drawn, be-ribboned carriages drawn up at the front of the church after the ceremony.

The bride and groom took their places in the back seat of the covered surrey with its top edged with fringe and tassels and bright ribbons streaming out behind. With LeRoy H. Winebrenner, owner of the horses and carriages, holding the lines, the couple started off but soon had to stop until Dr. John B. Zinn, West Broadway, who was driving the wagon bearing the wedding party could get his steed in motion.

While the wedding guests and curious by-standers looked on, all sorts of persuasion was used upon the immobile equine. Cars and buses crept by cautiously on the other side of the street as the animal occasionally backed and once threatened to upset his uneasy passengers. Finally, Mr. Winebrenner succeeded in getting the horse started and then ran ahead to resume his place in the surrey. As the surrey moved upstreet a large "Just Married" sign across its back explained to Saturday afternoon shoppers the strange sight.

"Fractious Horses" The party went up Baltimore street for a visit to a photographer's studio before going to the Sheely residence for the reception. Some of the hundred or more guests drove to the reception and many walked but arrived in time to see the wedding party alight precariously as fractious horses made it difficult to find the small step at the carriage sides and threatened to snarl the long dresses of the women members of the party about whipsocket or spokes of the ribboned wheels.

The couple started their wedding trip by bus to Harrisburg later in the evening.

Capt. John J. Knox Is In North Africa

Captain John J. Knox, former York street physician, has arrived in North Africa, according to word received by his wife here.

Captain Knox entered the Air Force last December and served at Miami Beach, Florida; Bowman Field, Kentucky, and Fort Bragg, North Carolina, before being sent overseas.

FARM LABOR SHORTAGE IS GROWING ACUTE

"The farm labor situation in Adams county is growing more acute every day," County Agent M. T. Hartman declared today, "and a special appeal is made for each and every person to render every assistance possible."

"What can be done to help the emergency situation is the question that naturally presents itself. Farmers of Adams county are urged to anticipate their labor needs as far in advance as possible, and contact the Emergency Farm Labor office on Baltimore street. Anyone that is available for farm work, part time or full time, should register at the Farm Labor office," Hartman said.

"There are many types of farm work that require help, and one thing sure there is a job for everyone. At the present time haying and barley harvest are in full operation. Peach thinning is completed in some orchards, however, plenty of peach thinning still remains to be done."

Cherries in 10 Days

"Peach harvest is in full swing, and many county youths are doing their bit to help get the peach crop processed."

"Bean picking soon will be in order and many helpers are required as the acreage of beans has been expanded. Tomato acreage has been increased and plenty of tomato pickers will be required to harvest the tomato crop."

"The sour cherry crop is rapidly reaching maturity and picking cherries will get under way during the next 10 days."

Food Is Vital

"To the boys and girls of Adams county who can contribute so much toward helping with the harvesting of farm crops, it is suggested that they register at the Farm Labor office," the county agent emphasized.

The Emergency Farm Labor office is located next to the court house on Baltimore street in the Topper building. The telephone is Gettysburg 290.

"Food is important. Food is a vital necessity and we must realize that food doesn't just happen. It can't be taken for granted. Food has to be produced by work and planning and conserved by genius and care. Whether we are available as farm helpers or if we need farm help, we can cooperate by contacting the Farm Labor office," Hartman asserted.

STAMP VALUES CUT

The Local War Price and Rationing board today reminded holders of "B" and "C" rations that no additional gasoline will be issued to take care of the cut in value of these coupons from three gallons to two and one-half gallons.

Ruhr, Rhineland Cities Targets Of Pulverizing Raids By Allied Fliers

Krefeld, Germany Lambasted By 700 RAF Bombers; 44 Fail To Return; Wellingtons And Flying Fortresses Pound Port Of Naples, Italy In Day And Night Assaults

London, June 22 (AP)—Germany, shocked by recent reverses, is facing a military and political crisis, but the Allies must open a second front in Europe this year if they hope for a quick victory, the Russians declared today on the second anniversary of Hitler's invasion of the Soviet Union.

In a special communique broadcast by the Moscow radio, the Soviet information bureau said:

"During the past year the German army has had no military successes. On the contrary, it has suffered one defeat after another on the Soviet front and in North Africa. Thus, as a result, the German military power has been shaken and a crisis caused."

"But this is not enough for victory. Everything now depends on how the Allies will use the favorable situation for a second front, without which victory is impossible."

Reviewing the two years of the bloodiest struggle in history, the broadcast placed Germany's Russian front casualties at 6,400,000 killed and missing and Russian losses at 4,200,000 in dead and missing.

Germany has lost 42,400 tanks, 56,500 guns and 43,000 planes as compared with Russian losses of 30,000 tanks, 35,000 guns and 23,000 planes, said the communique, which was recorded by the Soviet Monitor here. It asserted that the Germans have lost the main part of their first-line divisions and described Hitler's defeat before Moscow "as the decisive event of the Second World War."

Today's anniversary found the millions of soldiers facing each other along the front virtually deadlocked.

RESIGNS FROM RATION BOARD

Fred G. Pfeffer, chairman of the Local War Price and Rationing board and a member of the highway gasoline panel, has resigned his positions effective at once. His letter of resignation was forwarded to Donald P. McPherson, Jr., Esq., chairman of the Adams County Rationing Board.

In announcing his resignation Mr. Pfeffer said that it was necessary for him to relinquish his rationing board office because of conflicting hours of service and his regular business. He explained that he could not devote the time necessary to the rationing board office and maintain his own business.

"When I accepted the appointment I had no idea it would make such demands on my time, particularly during regular business hours. I have given it a fair trial and find in the last few weeks I have been unable to assume my share of the duties. In fairness to the other members of the board I feel that my resignation is in order," Mr. Pfeffer stated in his letter to Mr. McPherson.

Mr. Pfeffer was appointed to the rationing post in April.

SPECIAL SERVICE HERE ON JULY 4

Arranged jointly by the Gettysburg Ministerium and the Boy Scouts of Gettysburg, a patriotic-religious service will be conducted on Memorial field at Gettysburg college on Sunday evening, July 4, it was announced today.

Dr. Harry F. Baughman, member of the faculty of the Gettysburg Lutheran Theological seminary, will be the speaker for the exercises which have been scheduled tentatively for 7 o'clock.

Other special features of the community service, which will combine with the weekly union vesper services by the Protestant churches of the town, will be announced soon.

Weather Forecast Continued warm with scattered thundershowers early tonight.

London, June 22 (AP)—United States bombers attacked the German Ruhr in daylight today in swift succession to a pulverizing RAF night raid on Krefeld, just inside the German border.

It was the first attack by U. S. bombers on this vital area so often smashed by heavy British night raiders.

More than 700 heavy bombers raided Krefeld, making the attack one of the RAF's heaviest of the year.

The United States bombers also attacked Belgian targets. It was stated authoritatively that a large force of U. S. bombers attacked the Ruhr.

The bombing operations were supported by United States, RAF, Dominion and Allied fighter squadrons.

Coal, Coke, Iron, Steel Center

The Ruhr is about 50 miles long and 40 miles wide, and it produces roughly about three-fourths of German coal, four-fifths of her coke and about two-thirds of her iron and steel.

The British attack on Krefeld was one of the heaviest of the aerial offensive.

The British lost 44 bombers—the heaviest for any single attack this year—but the Air Ministry communique which described the raid as "very heavy and concentrated" and delivered in "great strength" indicated that the assault approached the 1,000-bomber class.

Coast observers said the daylight raiders crossing toward northern France in two waves were Fortresses of the United States Air Force.

RUSSIA AND U.S. MOVING TOWARD SIMILAR GOALS

"Russia and the United States are moving in opposite directions toward some middle ground in between," Prof. Dunning Idle, of the Gettysburg college faculty, told the local Rotarians Monday evening in a talk on "Russia and Socialism."

"Russia is moving toward a democratic ideal that is not too different from ours, while we are moving in the opposite direction toward some form of collectivism," Prof. Idle declared to the 32 Rotarians and guests present for the weekly dinner meeting held at the YWCA.

"Russia has a long way to go to reach its democratic ideal. Economically it has made remarkable strides, but in the political phase it has not progressed too far."

"There is confusion in our ideas of socialism and communism. A fundamental idea of socialism is public ownership of the means of production and distribution while Communism holds for collective ownership of all property, real and personal. Communism would reach its aims by revolution while socialism would reach approximately the same goals by lawful, peaceful means."

"Karl Marx, father of all modern socialism had five basic principles for his reasoning, an economic interpretation of history, class struggle," Prof. Idle said.

LIONS VOTE $50 FOR HONOR ROLL

Eleven members of the Gettysburg Lions club were awarded 100 per cent attendance pins Monday evening at the weekly dinner session of the local service club at which a $50 donation was voted toward the cost of erecting the Service Honor Roll in center square and $5 to the local committee on colored church work.

The Lions receiving the special attendance awards, issued by Lions International for the attendance period from September to May, included President William A. Beals, now on active duty with the U. S. Navy. The others who received awards were Lions L. C. Keefe, D. E. Hess, A. E. Hutchison, Ralph Z. Oyler, G. W. Lefever, Hugh C. McIlhenny, Dr. R. D. Wickerham, Clarence J. Waybright, Milton R. Remmel and J. Herbert Weikert.

Recently elected officers will be installed by the club at the meeting next Monday evening.

Word has been received of the safe arrival in England of Pvt. Robert F. Hilly.

REACHES ENGLAND

Black raspberries made their first appearance of the season this morning at the Farmers' market and sold for 30 cents a quart box. Red raspberries, which were placed on sale last Saturday, also could be had today.

Shelled peas brought 30 cents a pint. Peas in the pods were 15 cents a quart box and 25 cents a quarter peck. String beans brought 15 cents a quart box.

No strawberries were offered today. Sweet cherries have been promised for the first Thursday market session of the season this week.

Krefeld is an important textile and railway center 10 miles west of the Ruhr and near the Netherlands border and is noted for its manufacture of special steels for aircraft armor plate and its output of sulphuric acid for explosives.

22nd Krefeld Raid

The raid was the 22nd on Krefeld since the beginning of the war, but the first in 1943. It was last hit in October.

DNB, German news agency, in a Berlin broadcast admitted that "numerous blocks of buildings" were destroyed during the devastating assault and said that 38 British bombers were shot down.

The cluster of German industrial centers within a 20-mile stretch of the Rhineland, represented by Krefeld, Duisburg and Duesseldorf, has now been visited by a total of 135 (Please Turn to Page 2)

PLAYGROUND IS OPENED MONDAY

While summer did not begin officially until shortly after 3 o'clock this morning approximately 300 youngsters got the jump on the summer season Monday by crowding into the playground at the high school grounds for opening day.

With Supervisor Fred P. Haehnlen and his associate, Miss Arlene Plank, in charge, the youngsters came early Monday morning to "officially" open the grounds and try out the new Jungle Jim and new slide set up for this year's activities.

The Jungle Jim proved most popular of all equipment with youngsters swarming all over the interlocking metal pipes which allow them to climb to a height of about five feet without danger.

Classes in handicraft were expected to get underway soon with the Recreation board having purchased large supplies of handicraft materials from which the youngsters can make various articles.

The 100 youngsters there Monday morning were followed by another hundred in the afternoon and an equal number Monday evening.

No formal opening exercises were staged. About 25 kiddies were present before the supervisors arrived 20 minutes ahead of time.

Black Raspberries On Market Stands

Black raspberries made their first appearance of the season this morning at the Farmers' market and sold for 30 cents a quart box. Red raspberries, which were placed on sale last Saturday, also could be had today.

Shelled peas brought 30 cents a pint. Peas in the pods were 15 cents a quart box and 25 cents a quarter peck. String beans brought 15 cents a quart box.

No strawberries were offered today. Sweet cherries have been promised for the first Thursday market session of the season this week.

U.S. HOME FRONT PROVIDES BEST AXIS MATERIAL

By MAX HILL

Our problems at home—accented recently by work stoppages and riots—are the best propaganda the Axis has to use against us.

They are doing their battles with our troops. Neither the Germans nor the Japanese have victories with which to bolster home morale.

But through our troubles at home their adroit propagandists are able to encourage the rank and file to ever more desperate efforts.

It is unfortunate that we continue to feed them ready-made criticism because in the long run the cost is going to be in American lives and materials.

Just prior to the war, a minor strike or disturbance in America was worth between one and two columns of copy in a Tokyo newspaper. The basic theme was that we were divided; that we could not work as a unit. The situation has not changed.

A Divided Home Front

Japan's greatest strength is at home. Her people have been taught that they must cooperate willingly—that the life of the individual is as nothing compared with the state and emperor.

Not many months before the war, preparations were being made in Tokyo for air raid shelters. The program was dropped. It was decided that every man, woman and child in Tokyo's 7,000,000 inhabitants should stay above ground and fight fires should there be a raid.

This is the sort of philosophy we are combatting. The war itself against such determined peoples is difficult enough without a divided home front.

Our Margin of Victory

It cannot be that Russia does not know the plans of her Allies, Great Britain and the United States.

Therefore, the special communique broadcast from Moscow must be considered as a trump card in the propaganda campaign which the United Nations now are waging so successfully against the Germans.

She asks for a second front, "without which victory is impossible."

Hitler was right so many times in his strategy it must have seemed to him that he could not be wrong. But his miscalculation of Russia's strength has sapped the life blood of Germany to a point that it has become our margin of eventual victory.

6,400,000 Nazis Taken

The war in Russia would seem to be now in a sort of stalemate; but two long and difficult years have passed since Hitler announced his determination to crush the Russians, perhaps in six weeks.

If Russia had not had her magnificent and undisclosed strength, the world most likely would now be at the mercy of Hitler, Tojo and Mussolini.

Her contribution is so great that she is more than justified in her present appeal for a second front in Europe. Russia's losses have been severe, but they have not weakened her as much as those suffered by Nazi Germany.

The Russian figures, as announced in the special communique, show that German dead, wounded and captured total 6,400,000 men. And in addition, the Germans have used or lost huge quantities of war materials which they otherwise would be using against America.

Unstinted Praise

Both President Roosevelt and Secretary Hull of the State department used the occasion to give unstinted praise to the Russians. The President's message to Premier Josef Stalin had the note of confidence which has become increasingly evident in recent weeks among leaders of the United Nations. He said:

"The growing might of the combined forces of all the United Nations... testifies to the spirit of unity and sacrifice necessary for ultimate victory."

It is essential for the welfare of all concerned that we give the Russians the utmost in cooperation and aid.

Minister's Son To Enter West Point

George E. Sheffer, Jr., son of the Rev. and Mrs. George E. Sheffer, New Oxford, who was inducted into the Army on May 21, has received his honorable discharge in order to enter the United States Military academy on July 1.

Young Sheffer, who is spending the intervening time with his parents, joined the Reserves during his Freshman year at Gettysburg college, which he entered following his graduation from the New Oxford high school in 1942. After his induction he was stationed at Camp Lee, Virginia.

ACCEPTS NEW JOB

Donald Myers, former clerk at Jacobs brothers' grocery store, center square, has resigned to accept a position with the Corkran-Hill meat sales corporation at Baltimore. Myers started his new duties Monday. Henry Albright, former grocery store owner on York street, fills the vacancy caused by Myers' resignation.

Gunnert-Myers

Miss Beulah M. Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Myers, East Berlin, became the bride of Dr. Oren W. Gunnert, Codorus, son of Paul Gunnert, Bait, at 3 o'clock Sunday, June 13, at the home of the bride's parents in the presence of members of the two families. The Rev. Paul Gladfelter, former minister of Trinity Lutheran church, East Berlin, officiated.

Miss Nancy Gunnert, young daughter of the groom, was the bride's only attendant.

The bride is a graduate of the East Berlin high school, Millersville State Teachers' college and holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Pittsburgh. She has been a teacher in the public schools in Reading township, York Springs, Johnstown and Harrisburg.

Doctor Gunnert is a graduate of the Spring Grove high school, Ursinus college and is practicing medicine in Codorus. Following the ceremony the couple left on a wedding trip to New York city.

Bortner-Flickinger

Miss Emily G. Flickinger, daughter of Mrs. Mattie Flickinger, Littlestown R. D. 2, and Lester L. Bortner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Bortner, Glenview, were married Saturday evening at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Utz, Silver Run, Md. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. William H. Neidhammer, pastor of the Holiness Christian church, Hanover. They were unattended.

The bride was attired in a blue dress with a navy blue hat. Following the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. The bride is employed by the Evening Sun company, at Hanover. The bridegroom, a graduate of the Glenview high school, is employed in the garage of his father at Glenview. They will reside at their respective homes for the present.

Raber-Spangler

Miss Louanna M. Spangler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Mark Spangler, Littlestown, and Lester M. Raber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Raber, Philadelphia, were united in marriage Wednesday evening at 6:30 o'clock in St. Paul's Reformed church, Westminster. The single ring ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. J. Edmund Lippey, in the presence of a number of relatives and friends of the couple. They were attended by Cpl. LeRoy Raber, Camp Edwards, Mass., brother of the bridegroom, and Miss Ruby Miller, Hanover. The bride wore a white dress with matching accessories and a corsage of white roses and baby's breath. The maid of honor wore a pink dress, pink accessories and a corsage of pink roses and baby's breath. The bridegroom is employed by the Windsor Shoe company, Inc., Littlestown. The couple will reside at the home of the bride's parents for the present.

Clark-Stump

Miss Catherine Elizabeth Stump, Hanover, and John Sterling Clark, New Oxford R. D. 1, were married Saturday, June 12, in the rectory of St. Vincent's Catholic church, Hanover. The ceremony was performed by the rector, the Rev. Mark P. McElwee. They were attended by Mrs. Charles Clark, Jr., and Harold Groft. The bride was attired in a blue dress with white accessories. The couple is residing at the home of the bride.

Engagement

Fringer-Galbraith

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd C. Galbraith, West Middle street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen E., to Corporal Ralph W. Fringer, son of Mrs. Lucy Fringer, York.

Miss Galbraith is employed as a key-punch operator at the York Motor Express, York. Corporal Fringer is stationed at Ft. McClellan, Alabama.

No date has been set for the wedding.

DEATHS

Walter Hoover

Funeral services for Walter Hoover, 51, Pennsylvania Railroad company truck driver who died in the Harrisburg hospital, Sunday, from injuries sustained when his truck collided with another car near Jednota early Sunday morning, will be held Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at Roth's funeral parlor, South Union street, Harrisburg. The Rev. Harry C. Mark, pastor of the Royalton Emmanuel United Brethren church, will officiate and burial will be in Geyer's cemetery, London-derry township. Friends may call at the funeral home Wednesday night from 7 to 9 o'clock.

Hoover, a resident of Royalton, is survived by his widow, Mrs. Marie Hartman Hoover; four sons, Chester, United States army in North Africa; Charles, also in the Armed service; James and Ralph Hoover, at home; his parents, Mr. and Mrs.

Reports On OPA Visits Unconfirmed

Reports that Gettysburg and Adams county motorists were stopped by OPA investigating agents and that some charges of alleged "flagrant" violations had been made, could not be confirmed by The Gettysburg Times today.

County War Price and Rationing Board Chairman Donald P. McPherson, Jr., could not be reached for comment on the matter while Chief of Police Glenn Guise, the office of Sheriff Daniel J. Wolf, and state policemen said they knew nothing of any OPA agents being in town other than what they had heard from individuals who claimed that the agents were in Gettysburg Sunday evening.

York newspapers carried stories stating that 36 motorists had been charged by OPA officials at Caledonia and Gettysburg during the past few days in connection with reports of wholesale violations found in the York area. One York paper gave a specific number of alleged violations here as eight while another paper said only that "a few" violations were alleged in Gettysburg.

Tax Credit If It Is Paid By June 30

Delinquent Pennsylvania employees still can save a ninety per cent federal penalty charge on their 1942 unemployment tax providing they make payment before midnight June 30, according to the Bureau of Employment and Unemployment Compensation.

Full credit is granted against the Federal excise tax if employer contributions are paid prior to February first. Delinquent contributors who file before July 1 are permitted 90 per cent credit. Those who fail to make payment before that date are required to pay the full tax to the federal government at the 3 per cent rate in addition to the normal 2.7 per cent contribution to the state fund plus interest. It was further pointed out by the bureau that only employers of eight or more workers are subject to this federal excise levy.

Legion Cancels Two Meetings

The second meeting of the month will be cancelled during July and August, the Albert J. Lentz post of the American Legion decided at its regular meeting Monday evening.

During that period only the regular meetings on the first Mondays of the months will be held. Commander C. Arthur Barber presided with 25 members present.

York Church Given Federal Funds For Children's Nursery

Notification of presidential approval of a federal contribution of $5,187 to assist St. Patrick's church, York, in the cost of operation and maintenance of child care facilities for the children of working mothers, was received today by Regional Director John M. Gallagher of the Federal Works Agency from Major General Philip B. Fleming, Federal Works Administrator.

The project will provide for war nursery care for 55 pre-school children, extended school facilities for 25 children of school age and overnight care for 12 children for the period from June 1 to November 30.

Charles Hoover, a brother, David Hoover, Mount Wolf, York county; two sisters, Mrs. Irene Baer, Mount Wolf, and Mrs. Sadie Blough, Aspers.

Mrs. Harry E. Kuhn Mrs. Elizabeth A. Kuhn, 42, wife of Harry E. Kuhn, Reading, formerly of Hanover, died Monday morning at 2:20 o'clock in St. Joseph's hospital, Reading. Mrs. Kuhn had been in ill health for some time and had been seriously ill for the past two weeks.

She was a daughter of Clarence and Annie Bell Folmer, and was born February 13, 1901. She was a former member of St. Matthew's Lutheran church, Hanover.

Surviving are her husband; six children, Cpl. Daniel Kuhn, Butler; Kathryn, Dorothy, James, Mary and Richard Kuhn, all at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Folmer, Hanover R. 3; four brothers, Jesse, Charles, John and Henry Folmer, Hanover, and two sisters, Mrs. Clair Koehler, Sharon, Pa., and Mrs. Sterling Dickensheets, Hampton.

Funeral arrangements are incomplete.

Clement F. Staub Clement F. Staub, a former resident of McSherrystown, died Saturday in Baltimore, according to word received by relatives. His wife, who before marriage was Edith Krichen, preceded him in death.

Surviving are two brothers, Charles Staub and Pius Staub, both of McSherrystown.

The funeral was held this morning at 11 o'clock from the Lassohn funeral home, 7401 Belair road, Baltimore. Interment was made in Park-wood cemetery, Baltimore.

CHICKENS STOLEN

Members of the state police are investigating the robbery of 30 chickens from the farm of Mrs. Russell Stoops, Gettysburg R. 2. The chickens were said to have been taken Sunday night.

Lieut. and Mrs. Glenn Epling, brother and sister-in-law of Mrs. E. B. Romig, Biglerville R. D., who have been stationed at the Carlisle Barracks, left recently for San Francisco, California, where Lieut. Epling will receive orders. Mrs. Epling stopped in Oglethorpe, Georgia, for a short visit with her sister who is serving with the WAACs.

Mrs. H. R. Brookman and children, Harold and Carolyn, and Mrs. Charles Threshie, of Norfolk, have concluded a visit with Mr. and Mrs. William C. Tyson, of Florida Dale. Mrs. Brookman's husband is a commander serving with Admiral Hewitt's staff in North Africa.

Miss Emma Baer has returned to her home at Salungi after completing the year's work as head of the home economics department in the Biglerville high school. Miss Baer resigned her position some time ago and expects to spend next year in Philadelphia.

NEARING NEW HEAT RECORD

By the time you read this you may be experiencing the hottest day so far this year—according to the records at the Arendtsville laboratories. Monday equaled the previous high temperature there when the mercury column climbed to 94 degrees at 3 p. m. after warming up to 90 degrees at 1 o'clock in the afternoon. Today the temperature at Arendtsville stood at 92 at the 1 p. m. reading. Observers at the laboratory predicted from that Ol Sol was really going to make things warm for us this afternoon.

Monday's official high in Gettysburg was 90 degrees, two degrees below the season's record. At 1:30 this afternoon the official instruments showed 88 degrees, two degrees above the reading for the same time Monday. The low here Monday was 67 degrees.

Naples Blasted Again

Allied Headquarters in North Africa, June 22 (AP)—British Wellington bombers attacked the Italian west coast port of Naples on Sunday night and American Flying Fortresses returned to the same objectives yesterday. Allied headquarters announced today.

"Considerable damage was done in the railway yards and to industrial facilities," the communique said, and bombs were seen to burst on the arsenal. The air depot and several industrial buildings at Cancelli, near Naples, were severely damaged.

Sweeping over with the Flying Fortresses for the daylight assaults, American Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by P-38 Lightnings, attacked Salerno and Battipaglia, both south of Naples, the war bulletin said. Factories and railway yards were hit there.

Two Allied aircraft were reported missing. Three enemy planes were destroyed, the bulletin said.

Targets on the Italian mainland, Reggio Calabria and San Giovanni, also were attacked without loss by American and British heavy bombers operating from Middle East bases, said a Cairo communique. Twenty out of 40 intercepting enemy fighters were shot down.

The American bomb carriers made their assaults in daylight yesterday, capsizing a ferryship in the Messina straits off San Giovanni, plastering railway sidings there with bombs and demolishing the harbor mole.

Explosives also were spread over the mole area, ferry terminus, railway sidings and station at Reggio Calabria by the Americans. Bombs also hit the town there.

The RAF heavy fighters hit the same targets the night before but poor visibility prevented accurate observation.

Files Two Charges After Accident

Chief of Police Guise today laid two charges with first hand information on the facts of the case.

Guise arrested Paxton Redding, 40 North Stratton street, for allowing an unlicensed operator to drive his car. At the same time Guise charged Mrs. Paxton Redding with driving without a license. Both charges were laid before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder.

The charges grew out of an auto accident in which Mrs. Redding collided with the chief's car June 15. Officer Guise said Mrs. Redding was driving on North Stratton street and attempted a turn into Water street. As she turned she hit the car of Abraham Staley and glancing off from that collision crashed into Guise's car, which was parked along the sidewalk at his house. Damage to all of the machines was small, Guise said.

KING GEORGE VI VISITS MALTA

Valletta, Malta, June 20—(Delayed)—(AP)—Evidencing complete Allied control of the Mediterranean, King George VI paid an unprecedented war-time visit today to the islanders he had collectively awarded the George Cross for heroism against the Axis onslaught.

The King came here from North Africa aboard the cruiser Aurora, escorted by four destroyers—a part of the Mediterranean fleet that has played a major role in Malta's defense and in conveying supplies which have kept the island colony alive.

HOSPITAL REPORT

Mrs. William Bollinger, Taneytown; Mrs. Russell C. Lupp, Idaville; Gerald Keller, McKnightstown, and Mrs. Edwin Hewitt, Gardners R. 2, have been admitted to the Warner hospital. These discharged were Mrs. Charles Bollinger and infant son, Charles Terry, Jr., West street; Mrs. Robert H. Martin and infant son, Keith Wynn, Bendersville; Mrs. Cyrus Bucher, Biglerville; Mrs. Frank Kepner and infant daughter, Darlene Francis, Gettysburg R. 4, and Miss Mary Stoniesfer, Taneytown.

OPERATED UPON

Mrs. Irving Bierer, proprietor of the Anna Bierer shop, Carlisle street, who submitted to an eye operation at Mt. Sinai hospital, Baltimore, last Friday, is reported to be improving today.

TRAINING DRIVERS

Continuing the training of new truck drivers and pump operators, Fire Chief James A. Aumen said today that members of the local fire company will report at 6:45 o'clock this evening at the engine house. Trucks will be taken to the brickyard pond for a drill and test.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENTS

Mr. and Mrs. William Bollinger, Taneytown, announce the birth of a son at the Warner hospital this morning.

A son was born Monday at the hospital to Mr. and Mrs. Russell C. Lupp, Idaville.

raid test. Many of them appeared after the red signal was given.

Good Time on Blue

The town received the yellow alarm at 4:25, about 15 minutes after the call was sent by army officials. The blue signal was sounded at 4:35 in Gettysburg, five minutes after the official alarm was sent out by the army. While the first call was held up by failure to understand the new army phraseology the second call came through in good time, it was declared.

The red signal was sent by the army at 4:38, and was sounded in Gettysburg at 4:42 a. m. with the call being held up somewhat by the flood of telephone calls as to the whereabouts of the fire to the telephone switchboard. The second blue was given at 4:52 a. m., and the white or all clear at 5:02 a. m.

Residents of the eastern section of Gettysburg, accustomed to the regular sounding of the factory whistles and fire siren blowing at the same time as signal for air alarms, were confused when the factory whistles blew immediately after the siren stopped. The delay caused wardens and others in that section, who had failed to hear the siren previously to think there was some trouble at the factory, it was stated.

War Workers Delayed

Firemen, aroused by the siren and thinking it was a fire, hurried to the fire house to answer the alarm, adding to the confusion by turning on lights in their homes in order to dress quickly before answering the alarm.

So realistic was the test, the first sprung by the army, that a number of persons were fearful it was a real raid after they had discovered that the test was in progress.

For the most part, lights were out and kept out during the test.

Early rising defense workers found the test troublesome for them, when they had to dress in complete darkness and could not leave their homes at usual starting times.

Tests at Unusual Hours

The air raid alert came earlier in the morning than any previous test, the Associated Press pointed out in a round up account of the test which covered the entire state.

"We wanted to find out whether our communication system works when everybody is asleep," declared Col. Lynn G. Adams, chief of protective services of the State Defense Council at Harrisburg, as he awaited reports of the test.

"The program calls for drills at different hours in order to reach all groups, including those going to work and returning at unusual times."

Adams also explained that dawn has been the favorite time for enemy planes to strike.

First Complete Surprise

The Army's civil air raid warning system—black boxes strung in 57 different places in the state—was used for the first time in handling

JAMES WISLER EXPIRES TODAY

James E. Wisler, 76, died this morning at 10:55 o'clock at his home, 44 South street, from the effects of a stroke suffered February 13. He had been bedfast since that time.

The deceased was a native of Adams county, a son of the late Aaron and Harriet Lee Wisler. He practiced farming in his early life and later became a carpenter. Mr. Wisler resided in Gettysburg since 1910. He was a member of the POS of A of Gettysburg.

Surviving are his widow, the former Jennie K. Wisler, with whom he observed his 50th wedding anniversary on December 27; five children, Lloyd E., Mrs. Samuel Weygandt, Mrs. Verna Arndt and Mrs. Lloyd Hess, all of Gettysburg, and Major Raymond L. Washington, D. C.; six grandchildren; one brother, H. Dean, Gettysburg, and three sisters, Mrs. Delilah Ohle, Baltimore; Mrs. Calvin Stallsmith, Gettysburg, and Mrs. John Van Dyke, Gettysburg R. D.

Funeral services from the Bender funeral home Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock conducted by the Rev. R. R. Gresh. Interment in Greenmount cemetery, Arendtsville.

Friends may call at the funeral home Thursday evening after 7 o'clock.

County Repairs Bridge Damage

The county commissioner's office today announced that the Lott bridge over Rock creek joining Cumberland township and Mt. Joy township has been completely repaired and is now open for use.

The bridge, along the road leading from the Taneytown road to the Baltimore pike, was damaged during the recent flash floods. The 100-foot bridge is constructed of steel and has a wooden floor.

The warning.

"In Philadelphia, some street lights, some neon signs and a few lights in houses were not extinguished but Judge Vincent A. Carroll, of the Civilian Protection Corps, said the response was as nearly perfect as we can expect."

Dodgers And Cardinals Win Only Major League Games Played On Monday

GIANTS FARE BADLY IN ALL RECENT TRADES

By JUDSON BAILEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The New York Giants not only haven't had much luck on the playing field this season, they haven't had anything resembling a good break in their trades.

Early in the spring they obtained Ernie Lombardi, the National League batting champion, by giving up a rookie catcher and infielder Connie Ryan, it will be remembered. Lombardi has been just ordinary for the Giants while Ryan has sparked for the Braves, and, on the day after the deal was made, hit a home run that beat New York.

More recently the Giants gave Herbert (Babe) Barna, a sometime slugging outfielder, to the Boston Red Sox for Lefty Kendall Chase, a pitcher with considerable American league experience.

Barna Shines
Barna, who had been a lackluster performer for the Giants, entered the Red Sox lineup immediately and began clouting extra-base hits. His blows have been directly responsible for at least two Boston triumphs within a week.

The Giants were criticized for taking Chase, who, on the day before the deal was made, walked 11 men in four innings and who had not won a game this season. But they bided their time and waited for the proper spot to unveil a south-paw.

This occasion came yesterday in a twilight game against the Brooklyn Dodgers and for awhile it seemed Manager Mel Ott was about to win an honorable mention for masterminding.

Rout Chase
For five innings he shut out the Dodgers on one hit while his teammates gave him a 1-0 advantage over Bobo Newsom, but in the sixth the Dodgers tied the score and in the seventh they chased Chase with six runs on five hits and captured a 7-1 decision.

The game had to be called at the end of the eighth because of darkness and the feeble light in the seventh may have helped the Dodgers' rally, but in any case Chase still hasn't won a ball game this year and the Giants haven't had much luck either on the field or in the market.

In the only other game on the major league program the St. Louis Cardinals maintained their 2½ game edge over the Dodgers by taking a 6-2 verdict at Cincinnati in a game that was halted by weather conditions at the end of seven innings.

Howie Drist held the Reds to five hits, but it took a four-run uprising in the sixth inning to settle the struggle in St. Louis' favor.

Whirly Starts As 5-Year-Old

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—Whirlyaway, turfdom's top money-winner was scheduled to start his campaign as a 5-year-old today in a $2,500 allowance race of a mile which will head the second-day program of the combined Arlington-Washington meeting at Washington Park.

This will be Whirly's first appearance at the post since he won a stake at New Orleans last Dec. 12, and will serve as a tuneup for the $10,000 Equipoise mile Saturday. His 1943 debut has been awaited with keen interest and has come in time to permit him to be at his best during the three $50,000 events which are his main objectives for the season—the Stars and Stripes July 5, Arlington Handicap July 31, and the Washington Park Handicap, Sept. 6.

"Long Johnny" Gee To Be In Shape Soon

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—The rampaging Pittsburgh Pirates opening a series in Chicago today after three straight triumphs over the Cubs here, will soon have an additional player—"Long Johnny" Gee, six-foot nine-inch southpaw hurler.

Gee, purchased for $75,000 from Syracuse, was played by a sore arm shortly after joining the Bucs and has been on the voluntarily retired list for the past year. He worked out a few days last week with the club and was given an okay by Manager Frankie Frisch, who lost Johnny Lanning to Uncle Sam yesterday.

Commissioner K. M. Landis reinstated Gee yesterday and the club said he would be signed as soon as a contract could be written out. Gee left with the team for Chicago.

NEW "ESSENTIAL" GROUP

Altoona, Pa., June 22 (AP)—Election of officers was on today's calendar at the 12th annual meeting of the Cemetery Association of Pennsylvania. Employment problems and wage standards were discussed by delegates at yesterday's session and it was decided to seek "essential status" for cemetery workers now classed as unessential.

Albany Trowned By Hartford, 17-4

(By The Associated Press)

The only thing certain about luck is that it will change.

Albany's Senators found that out last night when the Hartford Laurels trounced their visitors 17 to 4. At that, the game was cut off at seven innings by the Hartford Dim-out curfew.

This humiliation, which cut the Senators' fifth place lead over Hartford to a half-game, followed a week-end which saw Albany dropping league-leading Scranton twice in three games.

In a similar battle at Springfield, the Rifles walloped Utica 11 to 2. Springfield scored five runs in the sixth and three in the seventh after taking a 3-1 lead in the third.

Scranton's Red Sox had things their own way with Wilkes-Barre, sweeping a doubleheader 5-4 and 3-1. Binghamton and Elmira were idle.

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, June 22 (AP)—Sketch of a swell guy: . . . Gregg Rice lay on a rubbing table in a steamy-hot dressing room under Randall's Island stadium. . . . He had just taken the licking of his life in a race with Sweden's Gunder Haegg, his string of victories had been snapped at 65. . . . What's more he was sick.

The trainers virtually carried him in to take a shower and he breathed in short, quick gasps as he lay there, wincing under the applications of alcohol. . . . Under the conditions, you'd think a fellow had a right to be a bit peeved at everything. . . . But Rice managed to display a big grin all the time and when the reporters, well-wishers and autograph hounds crowded around, he'd sit up painfully shake hands and say "thanks" and you knew both the grin and the thanks were genuine.

He's a tough little guy to beat in a race, but it's a tougher job trying to get an alibi out of him.

In another corner of the room, one of Rice's superior officers was trying to explain the attitude of the Maritime Service toward his running. . . . "He'll perform his regular duties and won't have much time to train," the officer said, "so I doubt if he'll run against Haegg again. After all, it would look bad for our physical program if Greg went on taking beatings, but he can't very well take time off to train and make a long tour. He wouldn't be a real petty officer in the Maritime Service if he didn't perform his duties. He might get the time off if he asked for it."

The officer seemed to leave the question open, but we know what Rice's attitude would be. . . . He stated it a few days ago in telling of his difficulties in getting into shape for the race. "I'm very serious about the Maritime Service; I don't have much time to train but I wouldn't have it any other way."

Since then he has been ordered to sea for a month.

QUOTE, UNQUOTE

Last word by Haegg (as relayed by an interpreter): "He says he likes to sit around and talk with newspapermen as much as anybody but he doesn't think it's a good idea when he's in training. . . . It can be a bad idea at other times, too."

MORE STADIUM CINDERS

Starter Jack Lavelle was all set to start the big race in Swedish, but one of Haegg's handlers nixed the idea. . . . "He understands enough," the interpreter explained—and he did, enough to say "thank you" when he was motioned to the inside lane, too. . . . The AAU is having trouble finding opposition for the Swedish smoke eater. Gil Dodds doesn't want to make a long tour because he has a family to look after and, besides, there's no telling when Haegg will run a mile or 1,500 meters. He says he prefers 1,500 but doesn't want to try it until he feels he's right—which probably means right for a world record. . . . Haegg has a pair of track shoes autographed by Paavo Nurmi but he only uses them in practice. . . . Sure, there were other guys in the meet, but we'll get around to them later.

TODAY'S GUEST STAR

James E. Wray, St. Louis Post-Dispatch: "President Will Harridge is wondering why Saturday baseball crowds have dwindled away to week-day proportions. . . . The answer couldn't be the bargain Sunday double-header, could it Bill? . . . If you offered to sell two sirloin steaks on Sunday for the price of one on Saturday, you couldn't expect a crush at the meat counter on Saturday."

APOLOGY VALLEY

Staff Sgt. George W. Coan III of Stinson Field, Texas, takes issue with this dept. for calling Orville White a former assistant of Sgt. Clayton Heafner instead of vice versa. . . . "As I know Orville White to be one of the most perfect gentlemen in golf and one of the finest teachers, I think it only fair that he receive his just credit," says Coan.

SEWELL'S 'HUMP BACK' SLOW BALL WINNING GAMES

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—A "hump-back" slow ball, unlike anything seen in Forbes Field's 34-year history, has helped make Truett Banks (Rip) Sewell one of the leading major league pitchers this year.

Rip slips in the pitch with a windup exactly like his fast ball, but with a wrist snap that sends it 12 to 15 feet in the air, from where it floats downward at a steep angle, crossing the plate knee high.

When batters—particularly the Chicago Cubs who have lost four straight to Rip—try to smash the "hump-back" they usually pop up or hit into the ground. Big Frank McCormick was one exception, however twice pasting out doubles in the last series when the ball came in waist high.

Seeks 20 Games
"I'm out after 20 games this year and I think I can make it this time," Sewell says. He came to the Pirates in 1938, won ten the next year, then 16, 14 and 17 in order.

In winning eight and losing two so far, Sewell has hurled eight complete games of 12 he started, working 98½ frames. He allowed 96 hits and 29 earned runs for an average of 2.6 earned runs a game.

Sewell's fine mound work, along with that Bobby Klingner, now "X" Rescigno, Johnny Lanning—now enroute to the Army—and the potent bats of Vince DiMaggio, Frankie Gustine, Elbie Fletcher and Bob Elliott have put the Bucs in third place in the National league.

STATE TRAPPED 30,000 RABBITS

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Agents of the Pennsylvania Game Commission trapped more than 30,000 rabbits and 2,200 ringneck pheasants last winter and spring for release in depleted covers to reduce damage and stock barren hunting sites.

Director Seth Gordon said the game was taken from land where hunting is not allowed—institution grounds, parks and near towns and propagation areas. He added that live native rabbits "are far superior" to imported western stock as well as more likely to be disease-free.

The commission also disclosed the state has paid 18 claims for damage done by Black Bears since May 10. Gordon said the marauders killed 28 sheep and destroyed 20 beehives in Potter, Clinton, McKean, Tioga, Elk and Forest counties. The claims totaled $495.

'Hard Work, Honesty' Better Than Plans

Reading, Pa., June 22 (AP)—James A. Farley, former postmaster general and Democratic national chairman, said today that "hard work and honesty and self-reliance" are more essential to the nation's future than "formulas for security and happiness."

"We shall retain the power that is essential to the maintenance of America's responsibilities in the world only so far as we retain the spirit of the pioneer in each individual American," he said in an address prepared for delivery before the Reading Rotary club.

The United States, Farley declared, "was not built on formulas; it was built on the individual."

"We have won in the past by hard work and honesty and self-reliance. There is no better formula through which we can win the future."

Greg Rice Goes On Month's Cruise

New York, June 22 (AP)—War, which made the Gunder Haegg-Greg Rice meeting possible, has killed all chances for a second race this summer.

Rice, a chief specialist in the Maritime Service, has received orders to begin a month's cruise today which virtually precludes any possibility he will have a chance to avenge the 40-meter defeat he suffered Sunday in the 5,000 meter run at the National A.A.U. championships.

ROCKS LOSE TO FIGHTING WINGS

(By The Associated Press)

The new owners of the Allentown Wings promised they'd field a fighting ball club. Well—

The Wings snapped a nine-game losing streak last night by trouncing league-leading Wilmington 6-4, and the new Allentown manager, Herb Brett, engaged in a boxing bout at home plate with Wilmington catcher Tony Parisse in the sixth inning.

The Blue Rocks kept their one-game lead in the Interstate league, however, when second-place Hagerstown went down 11-4 to a seven-run barrage by the Trenton packers in the eighth.

The delicate balance between York and Lancaster for third place tipped a few percentage points in favor of York, which won 12-3 after homers by Campbell and Holowka and a pair of double steals. Flick homered for Lancaster.

Berlin Says 'Quake Killed 15,000 Turks

London, June 22 (AP)—The Berlin radio said Monday that a violent earthquake had rocked the north-west part of Anatolia province of Turkey and that unconfirmed reports placed the dead in the city of Adapazar alone at 15,000, half its population.

The account, from the none-too-reliable Transocean News agency, said the quake occurred shortly at 7:30 p. m. Sunday night during a heavy thunderstorm, and that a muffled subterranean rumbling from below the earth's surface added to the terror.

The quake's epicenter was placed at Adapazar and the unconfirmed reports, Transocean said, were that 40 per cent of the houses were destroyed and another 30 per cent were damaged severely.

Anatolia is the great western peninsula of Turkey between the Black and Mediterranean seas, leading to the Dardanelles.

NAVY OFFICER DIES

Reading, June 22 (AP)—Lieut. (jg) Harold Carney, 33, Albright college athlete who later was assistant football coach at Albright and Muhlenberg, died of a heart attack Sunday at the Naval Pre-Flight Training School, Chapel Hill, N. C., relatives were informed.

PHYSICIAN DIES

Williamsport, Pa., June 22 (AP)—Dr. James R. Rankin, 83, senior physician of the Lycoming Medical Society and a veteran of World War I, died yesterday.

GROWING PAINS HIT PRO-GRID OFFICIALDOM

Chicago, June 22 (AP)—Officials of the National Football league, previously worried for fear the circuit would shrink, found themselves with growing pains after concluding their extra-inning meeting yesterday.

Officials said that after the war pro football may no longer be a specialized sport, but may expand to such proportions that far western cities heretofore regarded as out-of-reach will find the game on their doorsteps.

This new frontier will be realized if the league, at its next session in December, votes to accept Don Ameche's franchise for Los Angeles. There also is a move to obtain a franchise for San Francisco.

Adopt 4-Game Schedule

With Boston already in, starting next year, and with Cleveland returning after the war when the new Philadelphia-Pittsburgh combine will separate, the league will have 11 members—six in its Eastern division and five in the west. The need for another western club is evident for balance, and Los Angeles, is the likely newcomer.

The last bit of business yesterday was the adoption of a round-robin, 40-game schedule for the eight teams operating in 1943. The Chicago Cardinals and the Lions will

Farm Appropriation Bill Back To House

Washington, June 22 (AP)—The storm-laden $875,000,000 farm appropriations bill went back to the House today with five major items, including Senate allowances of $160,000,000 for the Farm Security administration still in sharp dispute.

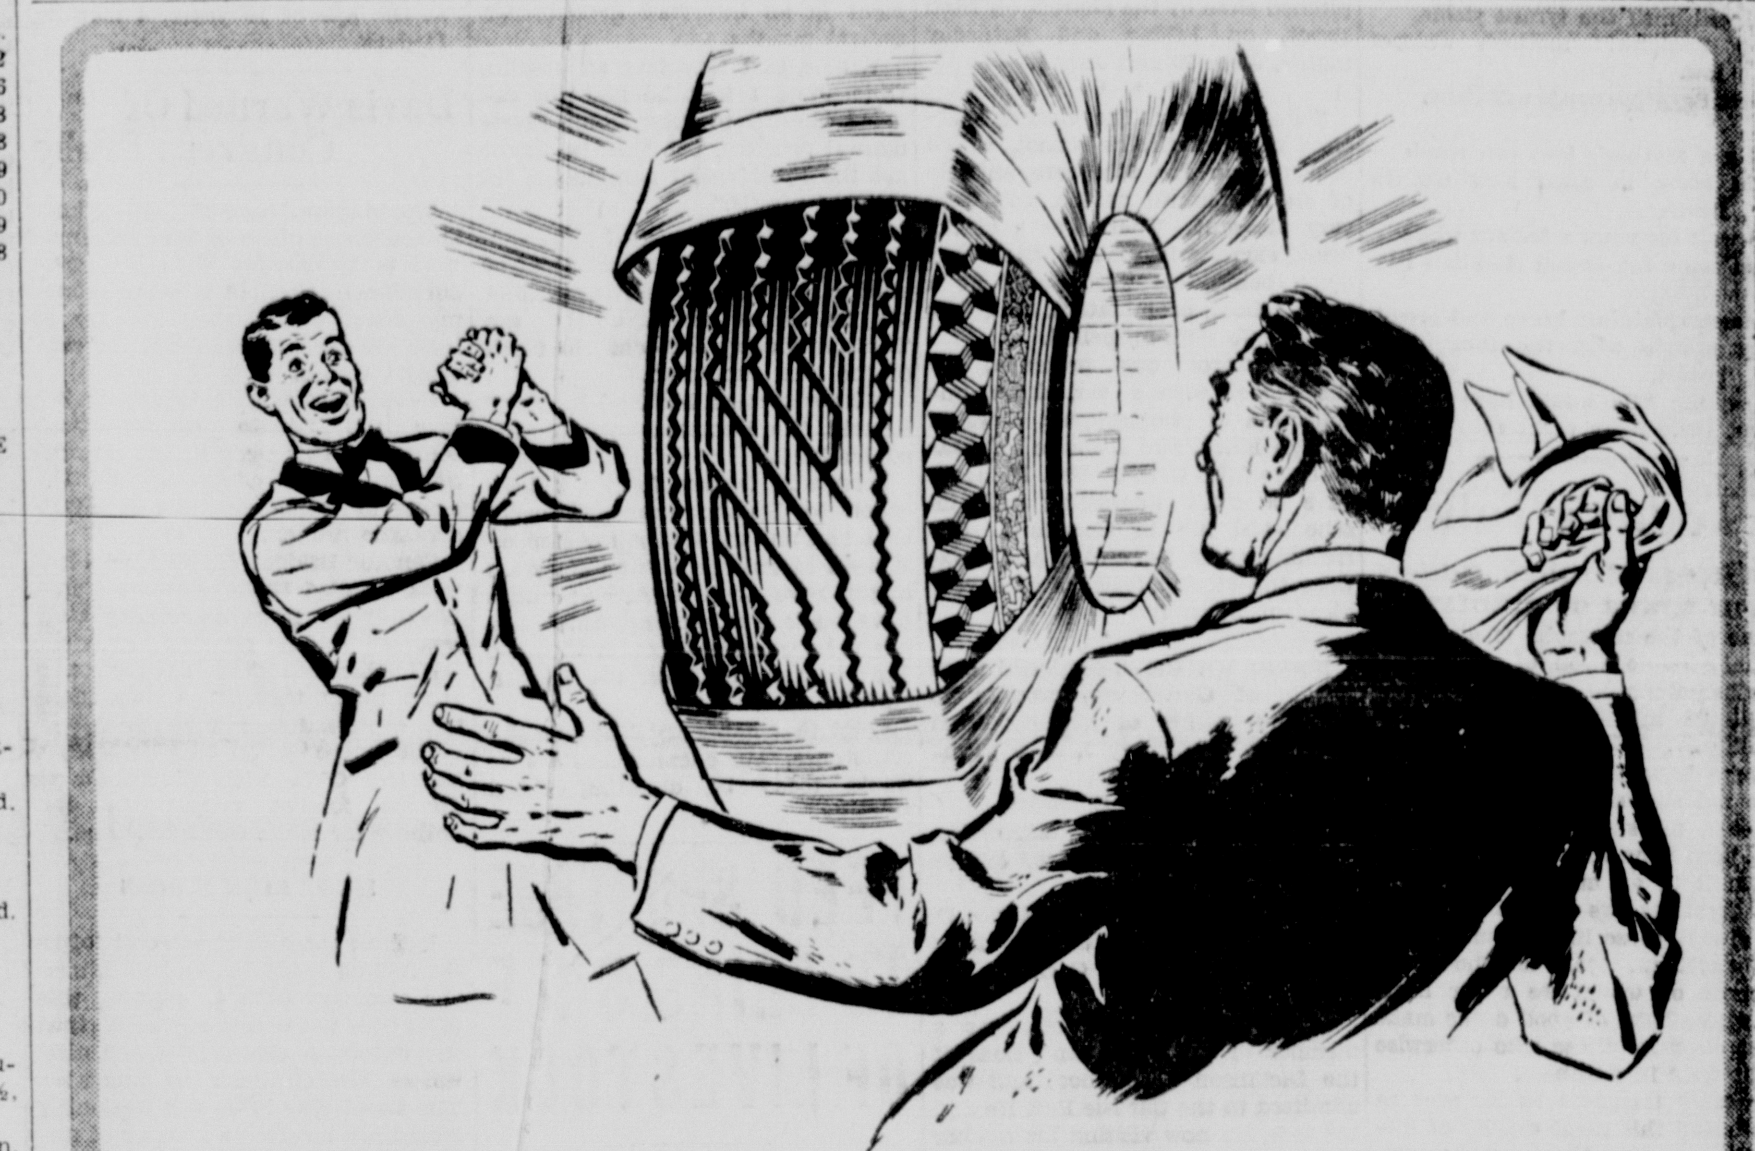

Despite failure to agree on this as well as on a Senate amendment increasing soil conservation payments from $300,000,000 to $400,000,000 Senate and House conferees talked optimistically of prospects for an early accord on the bill.

They based their hopes on the fact that in three meetings they composed differences on nearly 129 of 134 amendments added by the Senate to $715,000,000 appropriations previously approved by the House.

...when we unwrapped the new General Tire from American-Made rubber!

We'd heard about it, of course. We'd hinted about it to you in some of our ads.

But here it was! A General Tire from American-Made rubber.

Yes, sir, here was the actual proof of all the months . . . the long days and nights . . . that General Tire's chemists and engineers have devoted to the licking of America's rubber problem.

The tread is General's famous Silent-Grip design. The same extra strong cords are in the body, as always. The same General Tire craftsmen who have always given you General's quality are building it.

Scores of people have been in already to see our display of General Tires built with American-Made rubber and more are coming every day.

We're sure that you, too, will want to see first hand what American engineering ingenuity has accomplished. That is why we're inviting you to come in now . . . or anytime soon . . . and let us show you the General Tires that everybody will be able to buy someday.

Today's Talk
By George Matthew Adams
THE POWER OF HUMILITY
One of the triumphs of character is that of abnegation, of selflessness, of other-concern—each of which is translated into the one power of humility.

There have been great men who have not shown this spiritual quality to a marked degree, but there have been none with it who have not shown it in an enduring influence. The great leaders in this world are not always those in the limelight of public acclaim. Many are the names of those of whom we never hear, but whose light of good deeds make paths clear for those who otherwise might walk in darkness.

Probably no great leader ever so manifested this great quality of humanity as did Abraham Lincoln. During the stressing days of civil war someone asked Lincoln if he believed God was on his side. His reply was that he was more concerned about being on God's side.

It took humility for Washington to kneel among his soldiers at Valley Forge and pour out his heart in prayer to a power that he knew transcended all power of mere man. Thus he committed his cause to a higher authority for a just solution. In the first World War it is said that Marshal Foch went regularly to a little church in France, where he prayed fervently for guidance.

There is a saying that "pride goeth before destruction," but humility certainly is the spiritual path to all enduring deeds of grandeur and endless good.

Behind the lines of human endeavor for a better world, continuously toll those whose hope and heart center only in deeds of humble origin. Their desire being only to serve, without acclaim, for the larger good of all. Heroes and heroines, I would say, among the multitudes of the unnamed.

No one of us can look out upon this wonderful world of ours, or give ourselves to the study of its intricate beauty and wealth of design and construction, without bowing in humility before the wisdom and creative power of God, who put us here as inheritors of all that this world represents. Just to look upon the heavens at night challenges our understanding and our faith.

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Money."

The Rev. Dr. Wolf, father of the bride, performed the ceremony in the parlor, and was assisted by the Rev. Luther S. Black. The Rev. Andrew Fichthorn, of Tyrone, was best man, and Miss Ethel Swope was maid of honor. The bride's wedding gown was of rich, white bengaline made with a surplice bodice, plain skirt and long round train. The trimming, of rare old Duchesse, was the gift of a friend and was last worn at the German court on the occasion of a royal marriage. The bride's veil was simple tulle and the only ornament worn, an exquisite miniature set in pearls.

On Wednesday at noon Mr. J. Edward McCammon and Miss Emma R. Willis, youngest daughter of the Hon. David Willis, were quietly married at the home of the bride in this

Potential GOP Presidential Candidates Shun Race

WARREN, DEWEY "SCRATCH" OWN NAMES OFF LIST

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Columbus, O., June 22 (AP)—The 1944 Republican Presidential nomination race is rapidly becoming a "don't count me in" affair. Latest possible entry to "scratch" himself out of the running is 52-year-old Earl Warren, husky lawyer serving his first term as Governor of California.

Like first term Governor Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Warren told reporters during an interlude in the annual governors' conference that he is not a candidate "for any other office," that he does not "hope to be drafted," and that he has "a job to do as Governor and I expect to do it." His term, like Dewey's, does not end until 1946.

Willkie, Bricker Remain
Thus, Warren, a World War veteran and former attorney general of California, joined Dewey and Senators Taft of Ohio and Vandenberg of Michigan in expressing a desire to be left out of the 1944 nomination picture, leaving only Gov. John W. Bricker, of Ohio, and Wendell L. Willkie, 1940 Presidential standard bearer, and a few others to announce whether they will run or not.

Bricker, host of the Governors' meeting here, has said only that Ohio may put him forward as a favorite son. He made that statement in an interview in Nebraska several months ago.

Willkie told reporters at Oberlin, Ohio, June 1 that he had not decided whether to enter Ohio's Presidential primary, but that he might get the Presidential nomination "in spite of myself."

Myth Exploded
Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the United States army, told the conference last night that the Tunisian victory exploded the myth of the Nazi superman.

"The superman has had his day," he said, "the Democracies have called his bluff."

Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia, expressed belief that had not the Red Army stopped Hitler's eastern drive "the Germans might have overrun Africa; might have made Tunisia impossible, and might have made junction with the Japs in India and on the Persian gulf."

"Had that happened," he told the conference, "our enemies and not we would today be dictating global strategy."

FEED SHORTAGE TO BRING SALE OF LIVESTOCK

By MARTIN H. BRACKBILL
Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Liquidation of many Pennsylvania poultry flocks and dairy herds soon will be necessary, R. N. Benjamin, executive secretary of the state Farm Bureau Co-operative association, declared today unless a current critical food shortage is eased.

Benjamin, who explained his organization supplies 60,000 farms with livestock and poultry feed, said New England and Middle Atlantic farm leaders will meet in New York June 29 to seek ways of saving the region's animal population.

"There just isn't enough feed in the country to go around," asserted Benjamin in an interview. He blamed the situation on inability of feed manufacturers to get corn—which comprises some 62 per cent of processed feeds.

"Real Pinch" In Fall
"We tried to find barley to substitute," he added, "but after 10 days all the barley was gone. The animal population will have to be liquidated if we can't find enough food for them. The problem now is to get enough to fatten up poultry to a size big enough to be sold as food."

Benjamin estimated size of poultry flocks in Pennsylvania as double last year's level and the number of dairy cattle as about the same as in 1942. He said dairymen are feeding their herds on pastures but noted prolonged hot weather will dry up the meadows and leave farmers without reserves. He added "the real pinch" will come in the fall when livestock no longer can be put out to pasture.

The wedding march was played by Miss Eva Danner, and the ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. S. Van Cleve. The bride's only ornament was a beautiful diamond pendant, the gift of the groom.

Among the friends present were Misses Annie and Eva Danner, Mrs. Harper, Miss Helen Harper, Mrs. David Troxell and daughter, Miss Margaret McClean, Colonel and Mrs. C. H. Buehler, Mrs. Frances Walter, Dr. Robert Horner and Miss Mary Horner, Miss Annie Miller, Hon. N. G. Wilson and wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. Emory Blair, Dr. John A. Swope and Judge Russel.

Flashes of Life

NEEDLESS DELAY
Chambersburg, Pa., (AP)—Thieves opened the safe of a bottling plant the hard way, by battering off the knob.

They needn't have bothered, though. The combination was pasted on the door.

YEP? IT WAS A HORSE

Billings, Mont. (AP)—Oscar Bjorgum's tree-climbing horse is back to earth again.

It took the fire department, a block and tackle, and three hours' work to do it.

Bjorgum said the animal was frightened, tried to jump through a high fork in a cottonwood tree and got stuck. None aboard.

WHO??
San Francisco (AP)—Attendants at Central Emergency hospital must have looked a bit blank when Lolita and Loretta Scafidl, identical 14-months-old twins, arrived.

Their mother said one of them had eaten some poisonous paste—but which one? Neither looked unhappy.

A tract of the poison finally was found on Loretta's lips and treatment followed.

DAY OFF

Chandler, Okla. (AP)—Carl L. Wright, Jr., missed his timing by one day.

He will be sworn into the Army today at the age of 19 years, 4 months, 12 days.

Twenty-six years ago yesterday his father was sworn into the Army at the age of 19 years, 4 months, 11 days.

Davis Warned Of Congress Probe

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Elmer Davis, whose office of War Information is threatened with a drastic curtailment through a House economy drive, was warned Monday to have all the answers ready for senatorial critics.

Davis is scheduled to appear before the Senate Appropriations committee this week to ask restoration of funds eliminated by the House in voting abolition of OWI's domestic branch.

Senator Bridges (R-NH), who last week assailed Davis' statement that Washington news is inadequately reported, said he planned to ask the OWI chieftain "the answer to a great many things." Other senators expressed similar views.

The House cut off $5,500,000, leaving the OWI with $28,972,000 to finance foreign propaganda but nothing for home front activities.

MUST SIGN FORMS

Persons submitting renewal forms for fuel oil rations are asked to sign the forms at Item 4. Signing this form does not necessarily mean that the reduction clause is signed also, unless the customer so indicates. The Local War Price and Rationing Board has received a number of unsigned applications, which have been returned for signatures.

ENFORCED PEACE IN DETROIT RACE RIOT OUTBREAKS

(By The Associated Press)
Detroit, June 22 (AP)—An army-enforced peace settled upon riot-torn Detroit today with the guns of the military in grim command of the areas where racial fights had spread death, terror and destruction.

Ordered by President Roosevelt in a formal proclamation to desist, and with steel-helmeted Federal troops supporting his command white and negro antagonists skulked into hiding after having caused the deaths of 23 persons—20 of them negroes—during a calamitous day and night.

At least seven hundred persons were injured and over 1,300 arrested, 85 per cent of them negroes. On streets where the blood of both negro and white had run, 1,100 soldiers marched in patrol to assist the state militia, state police and city police. Early today authorities said conditions were "quiet."

Negroes Sought Arms

The troops, rolling up in trucks and jeeps and armed with rifles and machine guns, reached Cadillac Square, heart of the city, an hour before midnight. Word of their arrival spread quickly. Within 30 minutes, police said, the situation had much improved.

A related incident which occurred at the Fort Custer, Michigan, army post last night was revealed today in a statement released by Col. Ralph Wiltamuth, post commander.

"Members of one of the negro quartermaster battalions," the statement said, "attempted to secure arms and trucks at Fort Custer Monday night, but were promptly arrested. The men had become restless over the disturbance in Detroit and wanted to go to assist their families. Prompt action by military authorities quickly restored order. Five men were confined in the post."

Troops Bring Order

President Roosevelt, in a proclamation from Washington, ordered that "all persons engaged in unlawful and insurrectionary proceedings" retire peacefully to their homes. He called on "all good citizens" to "uphold the laws and preserve the public peace."

At 2 a. m. (EWT) Brig Gen. William Gunther, Sixth Service command, in charge of the troops, reported no further serious trouble. "The troops have met with no violence and have used no violence," General Gunther said.

ASKED TO MARK JULY 4

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Local defense officials were urged by the state Defense Council today to take part in community plans for Independence Day celebrations. Local councils were advised to hold their own rallies or parades in towns where no other programs are planned.

Plant diseases are said to cause an annual loss of about $200 on each American farm.

Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg—Harry V. Frushour, who taught in the local high school for several years and now in training at an Army school at Grand Rapids, Michigan, recently visited friends here. His wife, also a teacher in the high school, accompanied him upon his return to Grand Rapids. Mr. and Mrs. Elsie, parents of Mrs. Frushour, of Cumberland, Maryland, were recent local visitors.

Pvt. Robert L. Myers, son of Mr. William Myers, recently arrived on furlough from Camp Blandon, Florida. He will be stationed at Camp Gordon, Georgia, upon his return.

Harry Bollinger, owner of the Gem theatre, has installed an atmospheric pressure cooling system. The Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion, and Auxiliary recently distributed 950 poppies and received $100 in return from the Thurmont and Emmitsburg area. Boy and Girl Scouts with the assistance of the poppy committee of the Auxiliary presented the poppies to the public.

Miss Anabel Hartman, who teaches school in Baltimore during the school period, has returned to her home on East Main street for the summer.

Mrs. Emma Nunemaker, West Main street, was confined to her bed on Friday. She recently passed her 87th birthday.

How to Save Ration Coupons

Your GAS range can help you put up early fruits and vegetables!

The best way to save on ration coupons is—to do plenty of home-canning this summer and fall. Everyone should have at least two fruits and two vegetables every day. You won't be able to do it on ration coupons alone. But through home-canning, drying and storage, your family can be assured of plenty of healthful foods.

Now's the time to get busy on early canning—especially strawberries and cherries. The Home Service Department of your Gas company not only will gladly help you with any information, but has prepared a complete booklet on all canning methods. Be sure to get your copy.

It is the fulfillment of every American's promise that the job started by Jimmy Doolittle's boys will be thoroughly finished, in true American fashion.

How can you help? You can do your part by spending your extra change for War Stamps. It is your dollar, together with the dollar of every man, woman and child in the country that will pile up to the total of $131,669,275 and build the mystery ship. By passing up an occasional movie, or by converting the change from your lunch check into War Stamp, you will be carrying the answer of democracy to dictatorship!

HILL WILL BE CAUTIOUS ON NEW PAROLE JOB

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Major Henry C. Hill, chairman of the new Pennsylvania Parole Board, asserted today he will move cautiously when, later this week, he takes over the job of administering the state's parole system.

Now superintendent of the Pennsylvania Industrial School for Boys at nearby White Hill, Hill plans a trip to the capitol "to look things over" before he takes the oath of office.

"Asserting he was not ready to announce any policies, the 65-year-old penologist said in an interview that 'we'll go slowly for awhile on everything. This thing will be very much in the foreground because of criticism. Everybody is interested in parole.'"

"Toughest Job"

Hill, who spent 14 years directing penal institutions, once described his philosophy as head of the youths' industrial school this way:

"We operate on the idea that these boys haven't had an opportunity or haven't taken advantage of it. We are trying to teach them habits of work, to learn to like work and that everybody is supposed to work in this world. It's not a theory but just common ordinary horse sense with fairness and decency involved."

He said the White Hill job was the toughest of his life although he was warden of Illinois state prison at Joliet from 1929 to 1932 and presided over the Federal penitentiary at Lewisburg for 10 years before coming to White Hill.

RUSSIA AND U.S.

the idea of surplus value, which he called all value on an article above that which the laborer receives for making the article and the inevitability of socialism and internationalism.

Not Anarchists

"We call communists anarchists but the two ideas are directly opposed. An anarchist is opposed to all forms of government while the communist wishes to concentrate all power in government."

Lenin was Marx's most successful disciple. Idle told the group. Lenin added to Marxism only the idea that the working class revolution could happen in one country, Russia, which he felt was the weakest link in capitalism. He smashed the old state and set up a "dictatorship of the proletariat."

"This dictatorship of the proletariat was to be a transitional state preparing the way for the utopia of the working class. Unfortunately Lenin did not know what this utopia was like—he left that to be worked out later. Stalin has added little to the doctrine of socialism. Lenin died before his ideas were proved impractical, and Stalin, as hard a man as one could find, forgot the idea of world revolution and set about bettering the lot of the peasants. His prime opponent, Trotsky, held for world revolution in our time and aid for urban workers."

Not Sure of Us

"The dissolution of the Third Internationale recently was a triumph for Stalin," Prof. Idle declared. "Stalin was long since convinced that world revolution was not workable but it would have been too embarrassing for him to throw out the world revolution idea before he had an excellent opportunity to do so. As an example of how much Stalin liked the Third Internationale, he placed the president of it in jail and finally executed him after a long struggle in which the Internationale president was either read out the party or brought back into the fold on alternate years over a decade."

"Russia does not threaten us by its propaganda," Idle declared, "but Russia is not sure of us. There is need for mutual cooperation and trust between the two nations."

A question period was held following the talk. President Paul Kinsey presided at the session.

Urge Pharmacists For U.S. Army

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Nearly 400 delegates to convention sessions of the Pennsylvania Pharmaceutical association scheduled election of officers today after hearing Chauncey E. Rickard, secretary-treasurer, urge that Congress set up a group of registered pharmacists in the U. S. Army.

Dr. Hugh C. Muldoon, head of Duquesne university's school of pharmacy, recommended that the Army stop drafting pharmacy students before they finish college courses.

WOMAN RAILROADER DIES

Altoona, Pa., June 22 (AP)—The first fatal accident involving a woman employee in the Pennsylvania railroad shops here occurred last night. Mrs. Isabella Detweiler, 26, of Dunsmuir, died in a hospital an hour after her power truck crashed into a pile of steel flues in the Juniata shops.

LOSER TAKE ALL

By Adelaide Hazeltine

Chapter 16

Ann standing on the terrace with Jerry, and determined to amuse him long enough for Gibbs to search his room, found it difficult to act casual.

"You want to apologize?" Jerry asked in answer to her.

Apologize nothing, she thought swiftly, but prayed he'd catch only humbleness in her words.

"Yes, you see . . . I guess I didn't really think you hoped I'd be slugged."

"You were frightened, weren't you?"

She let herself laugh, a light, tinkling laugh that was completely feminine. "I'm not used to being followed by tall dark men. I had visions of all the lurid murders I'd ever read."

"You're not just saying that," he returned. "Anything could have happened."

"Anything did. It turned out to be you."

"You weren't too happy to see me?"

"Did I give you that impression?"

"Your greeting was scorched around the edges. Or did I misread your feelings?"

"You overdid your hand!" she replied flippantly. "Things were going better now. If she could keep the conversation in channels like this the time would pass quickly and Gibbs would be finished."

But his next words weren't in keeping with the mood she had hoped to induce.

"Did I?" His voice had a new intensity in it. He put his hands on her shoulders, swung her around to look down into her face. "I couldn't stand it if anybody touched you."

"I . . . She swallowed what must have been consternation, tried to tell herself she hadn't heard correctly, called herself a fool for thinking that it mattered to him. When she started to speak her voice betrayed her. "You . . . why should you care?"

She was acting the goon. This man was nothing to her. Perhaps the combination of moonlight and her pet perfume had gone to his head, was prompting him to say things he'd regret tomorrow. She ought to be able to retort, "Don't get romantic. I'm only here because I have an accomplice who's taking your room apart to find the will to a house you're stealing from me."

She ought to laugh derisively, brittle enough to break the spell.

But she couldn't. She could only stand there with her heart in her throat and feel his arms go around her, see his head bend, know for one helpless, timeless minute that he was going to kiss her.

His lips, cool at first, seemed as startled as hers. Then they grew warm and eager and triumphant. He kissed her once and again and again and he murmured something about loving her.

It was the mention of love that restored her sense of time and place.

She pushed away, her pulses pounding, her cheeks hot with shame. She couldn't look at him, she couldn't speak. A little gasp escaped her lips. She wasn't sure whether it originated in her brain or in her heart. She knew only that she must get away quickly before he could discover her deceit.

For it was deceit. Over and over she told herself that his kisses were only a natural consequence to her open invitation for forgiveness.

What, then, of her own response? What of that swift, exultant rush of ecstasy with which she replied? What of the blood that rose to a fever in her veins?

To love and lose was one thing but to love and betray was quite another. A more horrible version of the same old story.

Though where the loving stopped and the betrayal began she couldn't have told.

Inside the house she drew an unsteady breath, tried to seem nonchalant as she started across the reception hall to the sanctuary of her own room. But the rasp of sharp voices above stopped her. Voices raised in the quiet of Terrence House.

"You're coming with me?" That was Sarah.

"I'm a-comin'."

"Oh, dear heaven, that was Gibbs!"

Then the two of them were on the stairs. Sarah had her hand on Gibbs' arm, urging him along ahead of her.

"You're right, you're coming. You're going to explain to Mr. Baxton what you were doing prowling around the third floor, pilfering other people's rooms."

The old man made no reply.

Ann stood motionless, watching them descend. The nurse must have surprised him in his task. He could expect no mercy from Sarah.

Yet Ann had asked him to do it. That left her only one choice. To go to Mr. Baxton and assume the blame for the incident herself.

But not until she stood facing them all—Mr. Baxton, Sarah, Gibbs and Jerry who had come in from the terrace at the sound of loud voices—did she realize what that assumption would cost her.

She would have to admit not only that she persuaded Gibbs to search the room but that the scene on the terrace with Jerry was as carefully planned as a stage performance; that she had purposely misled him; that the entire episode was dress rehearsals.

But no one would believe what her heart cried. No one, least of all Jerry Lane, could be expected to know that the kiss hadn't been in the script. That it had been an impromptu and devastating addition.

Her eyes were on the man she loved and was losing as she started to speak.

FORMER DUPONT COUNSEL DIES

Wilmington, Del., June 22 (AP)—Thomas J. Laffey, 69, former counsel for the E. I. DuPont de Nemours Co., and the Atlas Powder Co., died yesterday. He was associated with the DuPont legal department beginning in 1904 and became chief counsel for Atlas Powder in 1913, retiring in 1935.

HOYT PROMISES NO PROPAGANDA FROM OWI UNIT

By KARL BAUMAN

Washington, June 22 (AP)—Palmer Hoyt, new director of the Office of War Information's domestic branch, outlined today a policy of giving the American people "straight information about the war" without "propagandizing."

"This means there will be no pamphletizing from this office," Hoyt, publisher of the Portland Oregonian, said in a statement which augmented a brief press conference late yesterday.

"It also means that this office will yield to no political pressure, and will serve no political interests. This is an office of war information; it will deal only with information about the war."

"Absolutely Vital"

Hoyt, who described himself as a life-long Republican, smilingly remarked that he appeared before the reporters as "one who has been abolished."

This was an allusion to the House's action last week in voting to withhold all funds from OWI's domestic branch for the fiscal year beginning July 1. The Senate has not yet acted.

The Portland publisher said he had accepted the appointment for six months "because I am convinced that its operations are absolutely vital to the conduct of the war and to the interest of the entire country."

He added that he had a clear understanding with director Elmer Davis that he would have full authority, assuming funds are restored, to operate the domestic branch "according to the freest standards of the American press."

Re-examination Of Rejected Men To Stop

Harrisburg, June 22 (AP)—Draft board officials throughout Pennsylvania received instructions today to stop re-examining registrants rejected because of physical defects unless their cases fall in one of three special categories.

Noting a survey disclosed some boards were sending men back for checkups as many as four times, Lt. Col. George H. Hafer, acting state director, said registrants may be returned to Army induction stations for new examinations only:

1—If the advisory board agrees with the local board the registrant does not have the defect for which he was rejected.

2—If regulations affecting physical standards are changed.

3—If the original defect is believed to have been cured.

Colonel Hafer said that in any event re-examinations may be given only once every six months.

NEW BUS STRIKE

Greensburg, Pa., June 22 (AP)—Buses of the Penn Transit company remained idle here today following a walkout yesterday of 21 drivers protesting curtailment of schedules.

Merit Or Promotion Grounds For Raise

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—Merit increases in salary and wage levels, or increases for employees given promotions are possible under general order No. 31 of the National War Labor Board, employees were informed today.

Speaking before a meeting of the Tri-State Industrial Association, Sylvester Garrett, chairman of the Third Regional War Labor Board said: "If an employer has established rates and no established plan for making promotions and giving incentive increases, general order No. 31 provides the necessary legal outlet."

General order 31 was announced after President Roosevelt's April 8 "hold the line" order banning all wage increases except those within the 15 per cent cost of living, or "Little Steel," formula.

Garrett pointed out that the established rates must have been in existence prior to May 31, however.

See More Court Appeals By C.O.'s

Pittsburgh, June 22 (AP)—U. S. Attorney Charles F. Uhl said today the granting of a review by the United States Supreme court to a conscientious objector convicted of draft evasion, may possibly pave the way for appeals in more than 40 similar cases in federal court here.

The defendant, Nick Falbo, of Westmoreland county, contended before the high court that he was an ordained minister, exempt from both training and service. He was sentenced to five years imprisonment here and the conviction was upheld by the circuit court at Philadelphia.

Uhl said 40 or more cases of "the same character" have been handed here. While they differ in many respects, he said, most of the defendants claimed they were ministers and should have been so classified, although they had not attended any theological school.

Falbo's case probably will be heard by the high court next fall.

An Important Notice

Concerning

"Fictitious Name" Businesses

A statute just signed by the Governor (Act 327, approved May 28) amends the Fictitious Names Act of 1917 so as to require publication one time in a newspaper of general circulation, and one time in the legal journal (if any) in (your) county, of a notice of intention to file a "fictitious name" registration.

Before any new business may be carried on under a trade name, or when another person takes over or enters the business, this registration must be filed in the office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth at Harrisburg and in the office of the Prothonotary of (your) county.

The Gettysburg Times is an approved medium for this required publication for "fictitious name" businesses to be conducted in Adams County. The following form is printed as a matter of information to our business friends who may be contemplating the opening of a new business under a name other than their own.
